

With the recent tornado in Laramie, our community has been reminded that we are not immune to disasters. Luckily the tornado wasn't as bad as it could have been. If your home needed to be evacuated, would you know what to do? The Albany County Emergency Management Agency is distributing "Are you Ready? A Guide to Citizen Preparedness" to any resident in Albany County (Limit one per household).

The guide discusses why we should prepare for disasters, what the natural and technological hazards are, and general preparedness tips. If you are interested in obtaining this guide please call Sandra Keller at 307-721-5314 or e-mail at skeller@ci.laramie.wy.us
